The city now has free | music and dancing. It was Kokomo's first day evening the Rev. Mr. Naftzger, pastor of Grace M. E. Church, delivered a sermon on the labor question that caused much comment. He said he was a believer in organized labor, but thought so much time was spent in organizing that the problems sought to be solved were lost sight of. He predicted that the present struggle in the Granger and Frank Shannahan, employes steel industry would result in failure to the wagemen, for four reasons: First, unrestricted immigration; second, intemperexplain how the accident occurred. Muncie's Celebration.

MUNCIE, Ind., Sept. 2.-With weather cool and business almost entirely suspended, Muncie observed Labor day with a parade of hundreds of union laboring men and exercises this afternoon at the fair grounds. There was a double benefit to be derived from the celebration, the free kindergarten school of the city sharing the proceeds with the Muncie Trades Council. Fred Wilder was grand marshal of the day. The kindergarten schools were well represented by a large float profusely decorated with cut flowers, and carrying fifty little girls of the schools. There were several other floats in the parade. The three hundred striking steel workers were expected to have many banners, commenting on their troubles, but they simply carried a banner bearing a large picture of President Shaffer, which was cheered. At the fair grounds this afternoon there were many athletic events, with horse automobile and foot races, and the addresses of the day were made by State Factory Inspector McAbee and William Cook, of Marion. Muncie refused to assist in the "State Labor day celebration"
